

Architectural section drawing of a museum gallery. The drawing shows six exhibition walls, labeled RE-1 through RE-6, each displaying different artworks and informational labels. On the left, a vertical scale indicates heights: ceiling at 4.52m, eye level at 1.55m, and other levels at 1.20m, 1.10m, and 0.72m. On the right, a horizontal scale indicates depths of 1000mm, 2000mm, and 3000mm. The walls are decorated with various artworks, including abstract paintings, a medical scan, and a historical document. Labels are placed at different heights and depths from the walls. A person in a wheelchair is shown on the left for scale reference.
