

Confidentiality Notice – Restricted Use of Tender Documents –

The use, reproduction, distribution, or analysis of these tender documents is permitted solely for the purpose of preparing and submitting a bid as part of this contract award procedure.

Any other use – particularly automated processing using artificial intelligence (AI), machine learning, or text and data mining methods – as well as distribution to third parties or publication, even in part, is expressly prohibited.

This restriction applies only for the duration of the ongoing contract award procedure. Following contract award and the conclusion of the contract/order, the documents may be used and processed in accordance with the contractual provisions to the extent necessary for the performance, fulfilment and documentation of the contract/order.

Technische Universität Berlin expressly reserves the right to take legal action against any unauthorized use, storage, algorithmic analysis, or other misuse of these documents.